

Interdisciplinary Approaches to Language Variation

CONFERENCE REGISTRATION

All conference participants (presenters, co-presenters, attendees) must register for the conference. Note that registration fees include a year's subscription to Language Variation and Change (LVC), though students may opt out of the subscription. The Thursday workshops require separate registration fees from those of the conference. The special Saturday workshop, consisting of two panels on Interfaces with Public Schools and organized by Marcia Farr, requires no special registration for anyone already registered for the conference; for anyone interested in attending just that workshop, there is a special registration fee of $25. Please fill out this form (including the total) and send it along with payment (check or money order) by October 10, 2006 to the following address (international participants may email this form to nwav.registration@ling.osu.edu and pay at the conference†):
