

Recruitment Letter

Looking for Participants

I am a PhD student studying Chinese linguistics in the Department of East Asian Language and Literatures, the Ohio State University. I am looking for six advanced American learners of Mandarin (MA or Ph. D students in Chinese program) for a comparative study between L1 and L2 Mandarin Speech.

In this study, participants will need to watch a speechless movie once (or twice, if necessary) and then retell it. The retelling will be recorded. For the compensation, I will offer one-hour Chinese tutoring. The total time for this study lasts less than half an hour.

Your participation is voluntary and you may withdraw from this study at any time and for any reason.

If you are interested in this study, please contact me at yang.1067@osu.edu.

* The above recruitment letter will be posted in the Department of East Asian Languages and Literatures to look for advanced American learners of Mandarin.

Looking for Participants

I am a PhD student studying Chinese linguistics in the Department of East Asian Language and Literatures, the Ohio State University. I am looking for six Mandarin native speakers from North China, preferably from Beijing, for a comparative study between L1 and L2 Mandarin Speech.

In this study, participants will need to watch a speechless movie once (or twice, if necessary) and then retell it. The retelling will be recorded. For the compensation, every participant will be paid eight dollars. The total time for this study lasts less than half an hour.

Your participation is voluntary and you may withdraw from this study at any time and for any reason.

If you are interested in this study, please contact me at yang.1067@osu.edu.

* The above recruitment letter will be sent to the mail list of Chinese Students and Scholars Society at OSU: csss@lists.acs.ohio-state.edu to look for native Mandarin speakers.